Eval. Notes:	Hess First Reserve Terminal was considered an LQG of hazardous waste due to large shipments of hazardous waste occasionally generated by the facility, though no hazardous waste was found to be on site during the inspection. The inspection was conducted as a routine inspection and to investigate an Unmanifested Waste report submitted by Cycle Chem in Elizabeth (NJD002200046) on 5/5/11 for a nonhazardous waste shipment from the facility that was found to flash below 140 degrees F. All vehicle repairs are done off site. Universal waste generated at the site includes batteries, lamps and consumer electronics, which are sent to Veolia facilities for recycling (last shipped March 2012). Nonhazardous water from tank cleaning (when hot work is necessary at a tank) is
